PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION ASSESSMENT FORM

ITP graduate students who are seeking a PhD must pass both the written and oral components of the preliminary examination before progressing to PhD candidate status. The student's advisory committee will administer the preliminary examination and determine the examination format. Regardless of format, the examination must test ITP core competencies.

ITP advisory committees will use this form to indicate their assessment of the student's basic knowledge of ITP core competencies. Please return the original completed and signed form to the ITP office. Students and/or faculty mentors may wish to keep copies for their records.
